

Charles Mia Limited Complaints

We are subject to the codes of professional responsibility in England. These codes list several types of conduct or circumstances that require or allow us to withdraw from representing a client. These include, for example, non-payment of fees or charges, misrepresentation or failure to disclose material facts, action contrary to our advice, and conflict of interest with another client.

We will strive at all times to give you a high quality service in all respects. However, in the event that you have any concerns with our service, please first take the matter up with Edward Cain who is responsible for handling all complaints in the first instance.

What to do if we cannot resolve your complaint

The Legal Ombudsman can help you if we are unable to resolve your complaint ourselves. They will look at your complaint independently and it will not affect how we handle your case.

Before accepting a complaint for investigation, the Legal Ombudsman will check that you have tried to resolve your complaint with us first. If you have, then you must take your complaint to the Legal Ombudsman:

- Within six months of receiving a final response to your complaint and

- No more than six years from the date of act/omission; or
- No more than three years from when you should reasonably have known there was cause for complaint.

If you would like more information about the Legal Ombudsman, please contact them.
